You may be aware of the current financial challenges that the Plume Library is facing. The Trustees of Thomas Plume's Library are determined to ensure that this unique treasure of regional and national importance, remains open and benefits from professional librarianship.

To date we have been successful in securing short-term funding from two charitable organisations, as well as receiving individual generous donations, providing the Library finances with a cushion while other potential more regular funding schemes are explored.

The main focus of fundraising activity going forward is to set up a 'Regular Giving Scheme' for people who are able to provide financial support to the Library on a regular basis in order to generate the income needed to keep the Library open and allow it to thrive. Ideally, we would need 100 people to donate £10 per month, but even a smaller donation on a regular basis would be of great benefit.

Other organisations in the town and beyond will also be approached appealing for support for the Library in this way. In recognition of the value to the Library of 'regular' sponsors, an optional display of names in the Library entrance is being explored.
